ARNALDO • CAPRAI

Arnaldo Caprai Winery

Arnaldo Caprai, a successful textile entrepreneur, fulfilled his dream of owning a vineyard in 1971 when he bought forty-five hectares in Montefalco. As his passion for producing wines from the native Sagrantino vine grew, he acquired more adjacent lands to expand his estate.

Since 1988, Arnaldo's son, Marco Caprai, has managed the company with a focus on modernization and collaboration with professionals in the wine industry. The company has made significant investments in vineyards, research, and technology to enhance their wine production.

Their efforts have paid off with numerous awards and accolades, including the prestigious Tre Bicchieri award for their Sagrantino 25 Anni. The company's goal remains the same as it was thirty years ago: a relentless pursuit of quality, research, and experimentation with new techniques to honor the culture and tradition of their territory.

BONZANO

Bonzano Winery

In the picturesque region of Monferrato, designated as a UNESCO World Heritage site in 2014, the Bonzano brothers, Enrico, Stefano, and Massimo, together with Enrico's wife, Simonetta Chia, have embarked on a wine-making adventure to showcase the area's exceptional viticulture potential. Their dedication to quality has garnered the support of acclaimed oenologist and "scientist," Donato Lanati, whose friendship and collaboration began in 2011 and continues to this day.

The Tenuta Mandoletta, nestled in the rolling hills of Monferrato casalese, holds a special place in the hearts of the Bonzano family. It serves as a source of inspiration and the foundation for their ambitious entrepreneurial project, focused on producing wines of unparalleled quality.

Driven by passion, courage, and the unbreakable bond of family, they are creating exceptional new wines from Piedmont.

The Scacciadiavoli Winery

Scacciadiavoli (from scacciare – to banish, and diavoli – devils) winery was founded in 1884 by Prince Ugo Boncompagni Ludovisi as an advanced oenological complex. After being bought by Amilcare Pambuffetti in 1954, his sons continued the activities and in 2000, his grandchildren decided to take the oldest winery of its kind in the area into their own hands.

While preserving the historical structures, extensive renovations were undertaken to introduce modern machinery and technologies. The winery is situated on a hill and the production takes place by gravity-flow in a vertical building on four levels, one of which is below ground.

Despite never stopping production since its inception, the renovations in 2000 marked a renewed passion for Scacciadiavoli.

LUNGAROTTI

The Lungarotti Winery

The illustrious Lungarotti family, whose passionate love affair with the fertile land of Torgiano in Umbria, Italy, has transcended generations, becoming an enduring legacy of the region's remarkable winemaking traditions. At the helm of this prestigious estate stands the legendary Giorgio Lungarotti, a trailblazing visionary whose groundbreaking contributions to the field of Italian oenology forever changed the game.

Today, the house of Lungarotti upholds its founder's esteemed legacy, continuing to champion the principles of sustainable production and uncompromising quality. A true family affair, the Lungarotti enterprise owes its ongoing success to the tireless efforts of the devoted daughters, Chiara and Teresa, who, aided by their mother, Maria Grazia, and the sons of Teresa, Francesco and Gemma, have emerged as the heirs apparent of the winemaking empire, carrying forward the family's unwavering commitment to excellence.

SPECOGNA®
Vignaioli in Rocca Bernarda

Azienda Agricola Specogna Winery

A story of passion, tradition and commitment that started with a man's return to his beloved land. In 1963, after years of living as an emigrant in Switzerland, Leonardo Specogna came back to Friuli Venezia Giulia, determined to make his mark in the world of wine. He acquired a small plot of land on the hills of Rocca Bernarda in Corno di Rosazzo, where the plant of the vine has thrived since Roman times, thanks to the unique and exceptional features of the climate and soil in this oriental strip of land.

With a commitment to organic agriculture, the company has expanded to 30 hectares, 25 of which are dedicated to vineyards. The fruits of their labor produce 120,000 bottles per year, sold not only in their home country of Italy but also in over 30 countries around the world. Every bottle contains a story of a family's dedication to the land and the art of winemaking, and their unwavering commitment to excellence.

CANTELE

Cantele Winery

In the early 20th century, against the sepia-toned backdrop of Italy, Giovanni Battista Cantele left Pramaggiore to follow the woman who would become his wife and the mother of his children. He worked in the wine world in Puglia before settling in Lecce, a city forgotten by time.

His son, Augusto Cantele, discovered his passion for white wines in Veneto and returned to his family in Lecce in the 1970s to work as a consultant before producing the first bottles with the Cantele family name in the 1990s. Today, Giovanni Battista Cantele and Teresa Manara's grandchildren, Gianni, Paolo, Umberto, and Luisa, continue the family's passion and talent for wine. These wines are not just a beverage, but a piece of history.

In the vineyards, time is the alphabet of the earth, each passing moment a stroke in its calligraphy, especially in the south where the sun casts a frontier of light that blends destinies, moments, and memories. Life is the secret voice that whispers through the vines, and love is the sweet nectar that flows through every bottle, telling the story of a family's passion and talent.

Casale Vallechiesa Winery

Casale Vallechiesa winery has dedicated itself to a rich family tradition for over a century. The production of wines of exceptional quality characterizes them, including only Docg, Doc and Igt, ensuring the wines are completely plucked and guaranteed.

With attention and care from the vineyard to the bottles, they express the unique qualities and originality of territorial wines, always innovating for a continuous evolution.

The farm resides in the heart of the Frascati area, where for millennia the cultivation of the vine has been a part of Art, good living, and excellent gastronomy, in an unspoiled environment just a few kilometers from Rome. The Frascati, Doc and Docg, Frascati's Docg Cannellino (a particular late harvest), the White Malvasia Puntinata Igt, the White Igt Bombino, Cesanese Igt and Roma Dop, the Syrah Igt, represent some of their most important wines. Their target market is the medium-high consumer and the Ho.re.ca channel.

Their wines are often rewarded and highlighted by industry guides and journalists every year, from Luca Maroni to Bibenda, FIS's guide, to the awards granted by the 5 STAR WINES of VINITALY competition, the international DECANTER competition and the international wine competition LA CITTA' DEL VINO (La Selezione del Sindaco).

La Magnolia Winery

Family is the foundation of our lives. It is the source of our strength, the teller of our story, and the keeper of our memories. This sentiment is deeply ingrained in the heart of La Magnolia, a vineyard planted by a father in the 60s. It is where the value of hard work, resilience, and character is realized. When a man looks at his land in the evening, he sees not just the fruit of his labor but the essence of his being.

The vineyard is a solitary place, but it is where the spirit of the winegrower thrives. The fruit that comes from the vineyard is not just the result of the weather, but also of the dedication and hard work of the winegrower. It is a reflection of his character, his passion, and his commitment. The fruit that comes from La Magnolia is a testament to the values that the family holds dear.

The family is the heart and soul of La Magnolia. The vineyard has grown and flourished thanks to the skills and expertise of Claudio, a young and talented oenologist who was with the family for many years. Although Claudio is no longer with us, he lives on through Ubi Es, the most precious wine produced by La Magnolia. Ubi Es is a premium, generous red wine, perfect for aging. It is a tribute to Claudio's legacy and a testament to the family's enduring spirit.

People and great wines both evolve and transform, just like good memories do. The family has grown and changed, but their commitment to La Magnolia remains steadfast. They continue to produce exceptional wines that are a reflection of their passion and dedication. La Magnolia is more than a vineyard; it is a testament to the values that the family holds dear. It is a place where memories are made, stories are told, and the spirit of the winegrower lives on.

TAGARO

Tagaro Winery

Masseria Tagaro is more than just a winery; it is the embodiment of a family's passion for winemaking and a testament to their commitment to preserving the tradition of their ancestors. The expertise of three generations of winemakers merges with cutting-edge technologies to produce wines that are both sophisticated and elegant, dazzling to the palate.

The heart of Masseria Tagaro lies within the old winery, where a massive ancient key opens the wooden door that once served as the center of this family's life. Here, the Trullo, a structure made of dry stone, stands as a testament to the hard work and passion of generations of winemakers who have toiled in the fields, nurturing the vines and grapes that have produced some of the finest wines in the world.

Masseria Tagaro's wine is more than just a beverage; it is a work of art, a testament to the rich history and tradition of this unique land. It is a wine that speaks to the heart and soul of those who appreciate the finer things in life. Each sip is a journey back in time, a tribute to the hard work and dedication of generations of winemakers who have made Masseria Tagaro what it is today.

TENUTA
LA SABBIOSA

Tenuta La Sabbiosa - The Winery in the Dunes

The story of Tenuta La Sabbiosa is both fascinating and heartwarming. The winery was founded by a group of elderly locals who were passionate about preserving the island's wine-making traditions. They started with just a small plot of land, and over the years, they managed to save other vineyards from extinction. Today, the winery has grown into a large property with a range of unique wines.

What makes the wines from Tenuta La Sabbiosa so special is their dedication to the essence of the Carignano grape. This grape thrives in the harsh, windy conditions of Sant'Antioco, and the resulting wines are rich in sweet tannins and have a low acidity. These are wines that age slowly and gracefully, just like the wise elders who have helped to preserve the vineyards over the years.

If you're a wine lover, a visit to Tenuta La Sabbiosa is an unforgettable experience. Not only will you get to taste some truly unique wines, but you'll also get to learn about the rich history and traditions that have gone into making them. This winery is a testament to the power of passion, perseverance, and a deep love of the land.

DI GIOVANNA
CUSTODI DEL TERRITORIO

Di Giovanna Winery

Prepare to be transported to the stunning Sicilian countryside with every sip of Di Giovanna's hand-crafted wines and extra virgin olive oil. This family-owned and managed vineyard is a testament to the beauty of organic farming, following EU standards across all five of their vineyards in Western Sicily.

Located in the provinces of Palermo and Agrigento, their high altitude vineyards, 'San Giacomo' and 'Fiuminello,' are nestled in the mountains of Monte Genuardo, providing the perfect terroir for their exceptional grapes. Meanwhile, in the zone of Contessa Entellina, the largest extension of their vineyards and olive groves are found, including 'Gerbino,' 'Paradiso,' and 'Miccina.'

Brothers Gunther and Klaus personally manage each aspect of their vineyards and wine cellar, ensuring that every bottle of wine and drop of extra virgin olive oil is a pure expression of their unique territory. Their love and dedication to their land spans five generations, and their commitment to organic farming is evident in every aspect of their operation. In fact, their entire property and wine cellar have been certified organic since 1997.

From the first sip to the last drop, you can taste the passion and tradition that goes into each bottle of Di Giovanna's wines and olive oil. So whether you're a connoisseur or simply looking for a taste of the Sicilian countryside, this family-owned vineyard is sure to delight your senses and leave you dreaming of the beauty of Western Sicily.

Tenute Lu Spada Winery

Get ready to embark on a journey back in time to the ancient winemaking traditions of Brindisi with Tenute Lu Spada. Founded in 2015 by a group of friends who shared a vision of reviving the viticulture tradition in this historic city, Tenute Lu Spada has quickly become a must-visit destination for wine lovers.

Their commitment to organic farming is evident in every aspect of their operation, from the retrieval and conversion of historically viticultural land to the restoration of an old masseria in the midst of the vineyards, creating a cozy tasting area, wine shop, and office.

Brindisi's rich history is steeped in viticulture tradition, dating back to the Messapian period and continuing through the Greek and Roman empires. In fact, writers such as Horace and Pliny the Elder wrote about the wines of Brindisi as far back as 30 B.C. The commercial amphorae manufactured in Brindisi during the Roman Empire are a testament to the noteworthy winemaking past of this historic city.

With Tenute Lu Spada, you can taste history in every bottle of their exceptional wines. Their dedication to reviving the ancient viticulture tradition of Brindisi is evident in every sip, offering a true taste of the land and the people who have cultivated it for centuries. So come and discover the magic of Brindisi with Tenute Lu Spada and experience the true essence of Italian winemaking.

Casa Grazia Winery

The Brunetti family's story began in the early 1900s, when they started cultivating their own lands and producing wine-grapes and table-grapes among olive groves and orchards. But it wasn't until the 80s, when Angelo Brunetti had to leave his lands due to the workload, that Maria Grazia Di Francesco picked up this dream and made it her own.

A woman with a passion for wine and a fascination for vineyards, Maria Grazia discovered herself in this dream and realized it until it became a reality. She nurtured the vineyards with love and dedication, producing remarkable grapes that were bottled in 2005 as a great Nero d'Avola. This was just the beginning of Casa Grazia's journey into winemaking.

Casa Grazia's terroir is unique, drawing on the remarkable sapidity of the Biviere, a special place steeped in folk memories and home to protected species and rare plants. This distinctive feature can be found in every bottle of Casa Grazia's wine, a testament to the hard work and passion that goes into every step of the winemaking process.

Step into the world of Casa Grazia and experience the magic of a dream turned destiny. From the vineyards to the bottle, every sip of Casa Grazia's wine is a reflection of their commitment to quality, passion, and the land that has been a part of their family for generations.

LE GINESTRE

The Legacy of Cantina Le Ginestre Winery

Nestled in the UNESCO-listed Langhe hills of Grinzane Cavour, Piedmont, Italy, "Cantina Le Ginestre" is a family wine-growing business with roots deep in history. Tracing back to the 1700s, the land was once tended by the Audasso family's forefathers, who served under Camillo Benso, Count of Cavour, a key architect of Italy's unification. War interrupted this noble tradition when Michele Audasso, called to service, vanished in Russia.

In the 1980s, Michele's son, Franco, with his dedicated wife, Giulia, revived the family's legacy, rekindling life in the vineyards of Le Ginestre. Today, their children, Gian Luca and Barbara, uphold this cherished tradition with immense pride.

Each bottle from Cantina Le Ginestre is a tribute to resilience and passion—an eloquent blend of the Langhe soil and the family's enduring spirit. It is history poured into a glass, a vivid tale of heritage that continues to unfold with every vintage. Cheers to Cantina Le Ginestre, where each sip is both a nod to a storied past and a toast to a promising future.

The Abbona Winery

In the heart of Italy's Langhe region lies the Abbona Winery, a beacon of tradition and innovation under the nurturing hands of the Abbona family. This venerable estate is deeply rooted in the rich soil of Dogliani, renowned for its expressive Dolcetto wines. The story begins with visionaries Marziano Abbona and his son, Celso, who planted the legendary Bricco Doriolo vineyard. Today, this sacred plot produces the prestigious 'Papà Celso' cru wine - a tribute to Celso's pioneering spirit.

Under Marziano's daughters, Mara and Chiara, the winery has gracefully adapted to modern times, embracing digital communication while maintaining a cherished personal touch with visitors.

Abbona Winery crafts not just wines, but stories. Each bottle is a narrative, marrying the strength of tradition with a taste for innovation. It's a living testament to a family's journey, as vibrant and captivating as the wines it lovingly produces. Cheers to Abbona, where each sip is a heartfelt chapter in an enduring, captivating story.

Col di Lamo Winery

At Col Di Lamo Winery, the vineyards are more than terroir; they are a vibrant history, a testament to the symbiotic relationship between the land and the Neri family. Here, gratitude for the nurturing earth is woven into every bottle, honoring the vineyard as a generous, life-giving mother.

Architecturally innovative, the winery stands as a sophisticated expression, designed for the international world of wine lovers, yet deeply respectful of its Tuscan roots. Seamlessly integrated into the landscape, its design is both a tribute to tradition and a nod to modernity, providing an ideal, sustainable environment for aging wines under the watchful eyes of the elements.

Central to Col Di Lamo's narrative are the women steering its course: Giovanna Neri, a passionate winemaker despite her law background, who infuses every vintage with the deep love akin to a mother's touch, and her daughter Diletta, whose vibrant enthusiasm perpetuates this legacy. Together, they craft not just wine, but a rich, unfolding story in the heart of Montalcino - a tale as dynamic and refined as the wines themselves.

The PRO.VI.MA Winery

In the heart of Matelica, a tale as ancient as the Picentes tombs unfolds at the PRO.VI.MA Winery. A history rooted in over 2000 years of viticulture, this winery bears witness to the enduring relationship between its unique terroir and the verdant vines of Verdicchio.

Established in 1932, amidst a turbulent political era, the PRO.VI.MA cellar was positioned near the train station, symbolizing a nexus of tradition and commerce, as grapes journeyed by rail from vine to vat. Known in its earlier days as the 'Enopolio' or 'Centrale del Vino di Matelica,' this winery, which once swelled with 40,000 hectolitres of wine in the 1950s and '60s, now honors a commitment to quality over quantity, echoing the region's rich history while meeting contemporary tastes.

Today, as new and young vineyards join the cooperative, the PRO.VI.MA Winery remains a living testament to the deep-rooted passion of Matelica's wine producers - a legacy bottled with every harvest, authentic and ever-enduring.

RAINERI

The Raineri Winery

Raineri Winery, where passion meets tradition in every meticulously crafted bottle. In the heart of Piedmont's Langhe District, the Raineri Winery embodies a simple yet profound formula: Tradition, Advice, and Absolute Care. Founded in 2005 by three childhood friends - Gianmatteo 'Jimmy' Raineri, Fabrizio Giraudo, and Luciano Racca.

Their journey began with a small Dolcetto production in the renowned Dogliani area. By 2006, driven by their respect for winemaking traditions and guided by familial support and seasoned mentors, they expanded to a full line, including Barbera, Nebbiolo, and Barolo, all sourced from Monforte d'Alba vineyards.

Nestled in Panerole of Novello, the winery comprises three key areas: vinification in stainless steel vats, aging in select French oak Botti Grandi and barrels, and temperature-controlled bottle storage. Embracing the philosophy of Langhe's Master Vintners, Raineri prioritizes meticulous manual care of each grapevine and daily engagement with the wine's evolution through barrel sampling.

The Kurtatsch Winery

Kurtatsch Winery, nestled amidst rolling vineyards and marked by three cypress trees, is more than a winery – it is a community of passion and purpose. Comprising 27 dedicated staff members and 190 committed families, they unite with one resolute goal: to craft wines of exceptional character and quality through sustainable practices.

As a young and dynamic team, they infuse every bottle with the distinct essence of their vineyards. Their philosophy is clear and focused: wines should mirror their origins. With meticulous vinification of individual vineyard sites, they blend decades of knowledge with cutting-edge technologies. From the velvety Merlot of warm Brenntal to the crisp Müller Thurgau of elevated Graun, each wine is a unique, incomparable expression of Kurtatsch.

Sustainability is the winery's guiding principle, deeply rooted in every action, from vineyard management to winemaking processes. Continuous dialogue with their members, a commitment to education, and methodical innovation shape their holistic approach.

At Kurtatsch Winery, wines are not just crafted; they are a heartfelt tribute to the land, community, and generations of shared knowledge and respect.

The Settecani Winery

Nestled in Italy's heartland, the Settecani Winery stands as a testament to passion, unity, and tradition. Founded in 1923 by 48 farmers with a shared vision, today the winery is the collective effort of 200 families. Settecani lies in the picturesque hamlet of its namesake, bridging the towns of Castelvetro, Castelnuovo Rangone, and Spilamberto - key players in the storied land of Lambrusco Grasperossa.

This close-knit winemaking family makes decisions collectively, honoring their ancestors' rhythm of life while navigating towards new, ambitious goals. Recent years have witnessed a strengthening of Settecani's brand and expansion into international markets, winning awards and gaining recognition for their exceptional wines.

Their flagship Lambrusco Grasperossa Castelvetro D.O.P. embodies the winery's ethos: full-bodied, crisp, and fruit-forward, like an explosion of ripe red fruit - always approachable, just like the wine's makers. As Settecani approaches its centenary, it retains its profound connection to its roots, blending modern technology with steadfast tradition - a living tribute to the land and the hands that have lovingly tended it for generations.

Di Berardino Vignavolando

Nestled in the heart of the Abruzzo region, in the tranquil valley of Fonte Vecchia, Di Berardino Vignavolando emerges as a jewel of Italian viticulture. This winery, with its vineyards cascading down steep slopes, stands as a proud custodian of the land, under the dual guardianship of the Adriatic Sea and the imposing Maiella mountain.

The vineyards of Di Berardino Vignavolando are not just plots of land; they are canvases where nature paints its masterpieces. Here, the grapes bask in the generous sun, absorbing its warmth, and are then caressed by the cool, nocturnal breezes from the mountains. This unique interplay of climate creates a microcosm where grapes develop rich, complex flavors, setting the stage for wines of unparalleled character.

In the picturesque San Vito Chietino, just a whisper away from the sea, the winery's tasting center welcomes guests. This space is not merely a venue for wine tasting; it's an immersive experience. As visitors meander through the vineyards and orchards, they are enveloped in the essence of the Theatine countryside. The wines, each with its own story and bouquet, offer a sensory journey through the rich tapestry of Abruzzo's landscape.

Bellaria Roccabascerana

In the heart of Irpinia, a winery stands as a testament to the art of viticulture, where the balance of nature and the rhythm of seasons dictate the craft. Here, every vine is a story, and every bottle a celebration of the land. The winery's commitment to the meticulous care of its vineyards shines through in their exceptional wines, capturing the magic of Irpinia's landscape and the nuances of its unique terroir.

This winery, a guardian of tradition and innovation, specializes in creating wines that are true expressions of Irpinia's rich offerings. The diverse geological and microclimatic conditions across their vineyards, stretching from Roccabascerana to Montefusco, allow for a splendid variety of grapes. Their whites, including Greco, Fiano, and Falanghina, alongside the exquisite Passito di Fiano and Spumante di Fiano Classic Method, are cultivated with precision, embodying the essence of their origin.

Collefrisio

In the verdant hills of Piane di Maggio, Frisa, Collefrisio emerges not merely as a winery but as a testament to the fusion of organic winemaking and modern environmental consciousness. Established in 2005, this estate melds gracefully with its surroundings, where olive groves meet meticulously tended vineyards, all sustained by the eco-friendly touch of solar energy.

The architecture of Collefrisio reflects a blend of functionality and aesthetic appeal. Smooth white walls and brickwork shape its exterior, while the interior, adorned with recycled materials and warm wood, creates a welcoming atmosphere. Beneath, the cellar hums with activity, where the transformation and refinement of wines unfold.

Collefrisio is more than a wine producer; it's a narrative of Abruzzo's dual character – a land where the Adriatic's breezes and the Majella's towering presence converge to create a unique microclimate. This setting is ideal for nurturing diverse grape varieties, each reflecting the region's rich tapestry of flavors and aromas.

Vecchio Magazzino Doganale - Traditions of the Old Warehouse

Vecchio Magazzino Doganale is a premium alcohol brand that celebrates the rich history and legacy of the old Vecchio Magazzino Doganale. The brand takes inspiration from the fascinating story of a group of friends who found themselves stranded on a paradise-like beach after a deadly sea dragon attack. The friends were welcomed by the family of Giocondo, the owner of the warehouse, and started working there. Over the years, they fell in love with the land and its unique aromas, and developed their own passion for drinking well.

The alcohol brand is crafted from the raw materials of the land and the knowledge passed down through generations. Each bottle of Vecchio Magazzino Doganale tells a story of dedication, craftsmanship, and passion for excellence. The brand offers a range of liqueurs, spirits, and other premium alcoholic beverages, all made with the utmost care and attention to detail.

Vecchio Magazzino Doganale is more than just a brand, it is a celebration of life, friendship, and the beauty of the land. With every sip, you will be transported to the enchanting citrus groves and botanical paths full of aromatic herbs, where the story of the brand began. Indulge in the rich flavors and aromas of the past, and experience the traditions of the old warehouse in every bottle.

Desirè Liquori

With an unwavering passion for over a century, Desire Group has been crafting the finest liqueurs and syrups. Embarking on a journey that began in Naples and taking their products across Italy and beyond, their offerings have captured hearts and palates alike. A history built on experience, continuous experimentation, and an unyielding focus on customer needs has led to a dazzling array of products, catering to both traditionalists and those enamored with the latest mixology trends.

Desire Group boasts of three illustrious brands, each with a unique offering. La Sorgente, with over a century of existence, commands immense respect in the liqueur and natural syrup sector. It was the first industry to produce liqueurs in Naples and has since upheld a commitment to using only the best raw materials.

Desirè Liquori reigns supreme as the market leader in the production of liqueurs, syrups, rum, grappa, limoncello, and beverages. With distribution in HO.RE.CA. and large-scale outlets in Italy, their products are favored by mixologists seeking perfection.

Saba's humble beginnings as a producer of high-quality almond milk and related beverages has culminated in its position as one of the foremost producers of syrups for soft drinks. A focus on fruit preparations for cocktails only adds to their allure. The icing on the cake? Desire Group's third-party processing allows for the creation of custom liqueurs, syrups, and private label drinks.
